

Bull Spit™

CARD GAME

Item # 890

Ages: 8 to adult

For 2 or more players

Components:

- 1 deck of 108 cards (8 of each) plus
4 Jokers (Wild Cards)
- 1 instruction sheet

Object:

Be the first player to discard all the cards in your hand.

Play:

To begin play, shuffle the deck and deal the entire deck out amongst all players.

The youngest player is first to discard.

Players then go in clockwise order around the table or playing surface discarding the cards from their hands into a pile in the center. The first player discards all Aces he/she may have (announcing the number of cards and card value - ex: "3 Aces"), the second all 2s, the third all 3s, and so on. Once the Kings have been discarded, play goes back to Aces and the cycle continues.

The catch: you discard your cards face-down so even if you say you are discarding four Aces (for example), you may actually be placing one Ace, one 2, and two Jacks into the discard pile.

The goal is to bluff your way through the hand without being caught.

If you suspect someone of bluffing during their turn, you may shout "Bull Spit", and that player must reveal the cards they placed in the discard pile. If their cards do not match the amount or card value they had announced, they must "eat the deck" and collect the entire discard pile into their hand. Should their cards equal what they announced and they were telling the truth, the person calling "Bull Spit" must eat the deck.

Be careful of the JOKERS though! Before a player decides to challenge another, keep in mind that there are four Jokers in each deck that act as Wild Cards and become whatever card a player needs.

Once a discard pile has been cleared, play continues with the next player and resumes with the number last discarded.

Play continues until one player loses all of the cards in his/her hand and is declared the winner.

Option:

You may wish to continue the game as people finish their hands to play for second place, or for however many people are playing.
